NEWSLETTER

FIIA will take part in a Horizon 2020 project on differentiated integration in the EU. FIIA researchers have concluded books on the EU's Eastern Neighbourhood policy, post-truth in Finnish journalism and geo-economics and power politics in the 21st century.

EU IDEA – a new H2020 project on differentiation

As a member of a research consortium of 15 distinguished research institutes and universities, FIIA has secured funding from the EU's Horizon 2020 framework programme for a large scale research project examining differentiated integration in the EU. The project is coordinated by Istituto Affari Internazionali (IAI) in Rome, and it will run from 2019 to 2021.

The key assumption of this project is that the evolution of the EU's politics and policies has demonstrated that differentiation can no longer be treated as an anomaly in the integration process. This poses a set of questions to academic and policy-makers alike: whether, how much and what form of differentiation is not only compatible with but also conducive to a more effective, cohesive and democratic EU.

FIIA is taking the lead on Work Package 5, which will focus on differentiated integration in the field of foreign, security and defence policies. FIIA's contribution builds on the previous work carried out in the institute on the report Multi-Speed Europe: Differentiated integration in the external relations of the EU (2014) and it will enable FIIA to strengthen its profile in this field of EU studies.

Book projects at FIIA

Senior Research Fellow Ryhor Nizhnikau has written a book entitled EU Induced Institutional Change

The 5th Annual Helsinki Summer Session seminar "US and Russia: conflicting or converging views on the new global order?" with Andrey Kortunov, Heather A. Conley, Mark N. Katz and David Cadier on 21 Aug.

in Post-Soviet Space Promoting Reforms in Moldova and Ukraine (Routledge, 2018). The book analyses the role of the European Union in the process of institutional change in its Eastern neighbourhood.

Senior Research Fellow Antto Vihma has published, together with foresight analyst Hannu-Pekka Ikäheimo (Sitra) and journalists Olli Seuri (Yle) and Jarno Hartikainen (HS), a monograph entitled Totuuden jälkeen (Teos). The book is in Finnish and presents an analytical framework on post-truth, and five case studies focusing on Finnish journalism.

Senior Research Fellow Mikael Wigell and Programme Director Mika Aaltola together with Sören Scholvin (University of Hanover) have edited a book Geo-economics and Power Politics in the 21st Century: The Revival of Economic Statecraft (Routledge, 2018). Starting from the key concept of geo-economics, the book investigates the new power politics and argues that the changing structural features of the contemporary international system are recasting the strategic imperatives of foreign policy practice.

Senior Research Fellows Wolfgang Mühlberger and Toni Alaranta are editing a volume entitled "Political Narratives in the Middle East and North Africa - Perceptions of Instability and Conceptions of Order" (Springer) that will be published in the recently established series "Perspectives on Development in the MENA Region" in mid-2019. Its purpose is to combine theoretical and empirical reflections on questions of order and disorder in the Middle East and North Africa with the concept of political narratives.
